Dear Friend,

The Premier's Council on the Status of Disabled Persons is pleased to provide you with the Directory of Services Offered to Persons with Disabilities in New Brunswick. This directory is also available in French and in alternate formats.

We have made every effort to ensure that the listings are correct and cover as many resources as possible. Please advise our office if you discover any errors or omissions.

We have attempted to reduce printing and shipping costs by not providing covers with the directory. However, the pages are hole-punched to fit any standard size three-ring binder or duo-tang.

We hope this directory will be of use to you and you will share the material with others.

Yours truly,

Tammy Willis
Secretary/Bookkeeper

INTRODUCTION

The Premier's Council on the Status of Disabled Persons is pleased to present this 16th edition of the Directory of Services Offered to Persons with Disabilities in New Brunswick, which incorporates new services, as well as changes that have taken place in the programs and services previously listed that have been brought to our attention during the past year.

If you find errors in any of the listings, or if you are aware of other services in your area that could possibly be included in the Directory, please let us know.

Our intentions are to provide a descriptive list of services and programs offered by non-profit organizations or government to the people of the province with disabilities. The Council is not responsible for the actual delivery of these services, however; and it is not our goal to imply an evaluation or judgement of the degree of professionalism of the services listed.

The previous editions of our Directory have proven to be very useful in the past and we hope that this new version will be of assistance to you.

For monthly updates, contact the office or check the website.

COMMUNITY-BASED SERVICES FOR CHILDREN WITH SPECIAL NEEDS :

The "Community-Based Services for Children with Special Needs" program is a provincial government initiative under the direction of the Minister of Health and Community Services. The ultimate goal is to provide a comprehensive system for serving all eligible special-needs children in the nurturing atmosphere of their home and community.

A child with special needs is described as one under the age of 19 with severe disorder or disability which has been or is likely to be long-term. Furthermore, the child's family and existing community services are not able to adequately meet the health, social and educational needs of these children. Families are expected to contribute financially to the cost of some services according to a sliding scale based on income and family size.

Specific services, which are available through this program, are as follows :

Family Support Services - Family Support Services are a comprehensive range of services offered to provide support to the child and his/her family.

Financial Support - Families caring for a child with special needs at home experience extraordinary child-care costs directly related to the special needs of the child. Families who are financially unable to meet the needs of their child may receive financial assistance to purchase necessary services and special items.

Interdisciplinary Assessment - The services offered to meet the needs of each child are based on the results of an assessment by an interdisciplinary team of professionals. An individual service plan is then developed for each child, based on the child's strengths and needs.

Residential Resources - Residential resources are available to children whose needs are such that they cannot be met in their own families.

Respite Care - Respite and emergency relief care are provided to a child with special needs for the purpose of providing relief to the family from the daily responsibilities of caring for their child.

Service Coordination - A service coordinator is assigned to each child and family receiving services to ensure the continuity and coordination of services necessary to meet the child's special needs.

Other programs for children include prevention, protection and support services such as :

- ▶ Child Protection.
- ▶ Child Care Services.
- ▶ One Parent Services.

- ▶ Early Childhood Initiatives (see page 20).
- ▶ Children's Day Care.
- ▶ Support Services to Education.

More information on any of these programs can be obtained by contacting one of the offices for Family & Community Social Services (see listing below).

LONG TERM CARE PROGRAM

Long term care services refer to a range of personal support, community, physical and mental health care services. These services are required by adults and seniors who, because of long term limitations in functioning, need assistance to live as independently as possible.

To ensure services are offered in an equitable manner, a standardized process has been put in place. In this process, client information is collected based on a set of indicators related to eligibility for services.

Wherever possible, services will be provided to enable the client to remain in his/her own home. Generally, professional services are provided by staff of one of the partner organizations, while support services are purchased from outside agencies.

For some individuals, the best living arrangement is a residential facility.

The Long Term Care residential model is based on functional limitations (not on age or diagnosis) and on the levels of services and supervision required to meet those limitations. Four broad categories of resident profiles, each reflecting a different level of need, have been identified. Categories are numbered 1 to 4, with one representing the lowest intensity of need and four the highest.

Four types of residential facilities are available to respond to these four client profiles. All residential facilities are required to develop appropriate programming for the clients served. These facilities have been named RF I, RF II, RF III and RF IV.

Because Long Term Care Services are not insured services, persons who are able to contribute toward the cost of the services they receive will be required to do so. The government will continue to pay for those who are unable to pay the full cost of their services.

The Department of Municipalities administers a number of housing programs that are 100% provincially funded, as well as others that are jointly funded with the Federal government. It should be noted that these housing programs may be altered from time to time to meet changing needs and circumstances. It is best to contact the appropriate regional housing offices (see page 28) for information regarding the full particulars of these programs.

Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program and Home Improvement Loans Program : To assist low-income homeowners occupying substandard housing to repair, rehabilitate or improve their dwellings to acceptable levels of health and safety. Financial assistance is provided in the form of a loan, a portion of which may not have to be repaid, depending on the household income and the continued ownership of the dwelling.

Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program for the Disabled and Home Improvement Loans Program for the Disabled : To provide assistance for the modification of existing homeowner and rental housing to improve access for occupants with a disability. Homeowners are given forgivable or repayable loans according to their household income and the cost of modifications. Landlords are only eligible for forgivable loans.

Residential Rehabilitation Assistance Program (Rental RRAP & Rooming Housing RRAP) : These two programs offer financial assistance to landlords/owners for mandatory repairs to (1) self-contained units that are substandard and rented to low-income households; and (2) to rooming houses with bed units that are affordable to low-income occupants.

Basic Shelter Program : To provide affordable, adequate and suitable housing for those households deemed to be most in need in rural New Brunswick communities.

Emergency Repair Program : To provide essential assistance to low-income New Brunswick homeowners to enable them to complete urgently required repairs and thereby permit the continued safe occupancy of their residences. Essential assistance is provided under three programs : the Provincial, Federal/Provincial and Canada Assistance Plan Emergency Repair Program.

Public Housing Program : To assist one and two parent families, non-elderly singles and senior citizens, who, because of low income, experience difficulty in obtaining adequate and affordable private sector housing. Tenants for public housing rental units are chosen on demonstrated need.

Non-Profit Housing Program : Existing non-profit groups and organizations assist low-income households in the provision of affordable, safe and accessible housing units. Households who pay more than 30% of their income for adequate and suitable housing in the private market, and those with special purpose housing needs, make an application to their local non-profit groups and organizations for housing consideration. Tenants are selected on the basis of demonstrated need.

Rent Supplement Program : To assist households in need to obtain affordable, adequate and suitable rental accommodation by subsidizing rents in the private rental sector. The program provides assistance based on the difference between an agreed upon market rent and the tenant's ability to pay. Payments do not exceed 30% of the household's annually adjusted income. It should be noted that this program is also accessed by special interest groups; namely : Neil Squire Foundation, Family Violence Groups representing victims of violence, for the provision of housing for the mentally and physically challenged and for families who are victims of family violence.

Home Completion Loan Program : To offer financial assistance to low and modest-income households to complete their partially constructed homes. Occupants must own and occupy, or intend to occupy, a partially completed house and have been a resident of New Brunswick for at least one year. The assistance comes in the form of a repayable loan within specified limits.

Homeownership Assistance Program : To provide financial assistance to low and middle income families to help them buy or build a modest first home.

Community Involvement Program : To improve the quality of life for tenants and neighbours in and around the public family housing communities. This program uses a community development approach, helping the tenants initiate collective action in order to change their environment to better meet their material, social and psychological needs.

Home Orientation and Management Program : To give tenants the opportunity to pursue their learning and to augment their skills at a series of workshops. The objective is to help participants make a successful transition from their former accommodation to their new home, to provide information on home maintenance, budgeting and resources available to help families meet their shelter-related needs; to promote self-confidence and a sense of pride; and to provide advice to participants who move out of a Municipalities unit into the private market. Eligible households are those occupying or planning to occupy a subsidized housing unit. Training sessions and the individual counselling are free to participants.

The Canadian National Institute for the Blind is a national, voluntary agency providing specialized rehabilitation and support services to individuals to whom loss of vision is a central problem in personal and social adjustment. The CNIB also acts as a consultant and resource agency to the helping professions, government departments and private industry.

The basic aim of the CNIB is to help blind and visually impaired people find ways to lead satisfying lives. The CNIB is committed to helping anyone with a vision problem that cannot be corrected using ordinary lenses and that significantly affects the person's ability to function normally.

CNIB's specific objectives are to improve the condition of the blind of Canada, to prevent blindness and to promote sight enhancement services. To carry out these objectives, CNIB offers specific core services which address the special needs of blind and visually impaired persons. These include counselling with respect to vision loss and referral to appropriate services, instruction in daily living skills and communication techniques such as braille, white cane instruction, low vision assessments and training, technical aids assessment and training, vocational and employment counselling and placement, talking and braille books and magazine library services, and specialized children's services including a toy and resource lending library. CNIB also sponsors the Wise Owl industrial eye safety program. In addition, a wide range of pamphlets and other resource materials are available to the community.

Four regional centres located in Bathurst, Fredericton, Moncton and Saint John are now fully equipped to produce braille in either English or French for the benefit of all braille users. For a nominal fee, they will also do braille transcription for individuals or groups when time and resources will permit.

CNIB has trained staff and volunteers available to do presentations and workshops. These workshops can range from general information about CNIB or blindness and visual impairment, to in-service presentations dealing with specific rehabilitation issues. They also have trained volunteers to do eye safety presentations for industry, recreation and education facilities.

Human Resources Development Canada (HRDC) is committed to the principle of equity in employment. Persons with disabilities are one of the four designated groups for HRDC programs and services. The other groups designated by the Employment Equity Act are women, aboriginal peoples, and members of visible minority groups.

Programs under the Labour Force Development Strategy have equity objectives, some with a percentage of places targeted for members of the designated groups. In order to be selected for these and/or other special programs and services, individuals must inform HRDC staff of their status as a member of one of the designated groups. This can be done in person or by completing the voluntary self-identification section on applications or other HRDC forms.

At the HRDC Regional Office, a Planning and Accountability Consultant is available to liaise with provincial groups and agencies interested in employment for persons with disabilities. An Employment Equity Consultant is also available to assist employers to implement employment equity programs and hire members of the designated groups.

At the local HRDC centres, employment counselling, referrals to jobs or training and other services are available. For further information, contact one of the following resource centres or their branch office :
